OUR ACHIEVEMENT

For a number of years, we have been grappling with a decline in turnover caused by customers drifting away. We believe that they were most likely beguiled by descriptions of meat purporting to be similar to ours. It is much easier (and more profitable) for supermarkets, butchers and farm shops to sound like us than to be like us. With 43 years of huge achievements behind us and with the meat industry improved dramatically, we believe that the honorable thing to do is to pull up the stumps and head back to the pavilion. All debts are paid and we have endeavored to see our staff redeployed into new careers of their choice.
